MAIN TITLE:

"NEW YORK CITY"

Produced and Distributed by Ford Motion
Picture Laboratories

Copyrighted 1922 by Ford Motor Company.

SUB-TITLES:

1. New York contains over 360 square miles at the center of which is Manhattan Island. Starting at the Statue of Liberty we go around Manhattan Island.
2. The Statue of Liberty was given by France to the United States. All ocean liners pass it on their way to the New York docks.
3. A large part of our foreign commerce comes to these docks in New York.
4. New York has many kinds of transportation - surface cars - subways - tunnels - and five bridges over East River. The Brooklyn bridge.
5. The Brooklyn bridge is 6,537 feet in length.
6. Many streets in New York are narrow passages between the high buildings. On eachside of lower Broadway are office buildings more than twenty stories high.
7. Along Wall street are the largest banks in America. Old Trinity church stands at the end of this street.
8. Crowded on all sides the buildings could not spread outward -- so grew skyward.
9. Skyscrapers are necessary in crowded New York.
10. The Woolworth and Singer buildings are the highest.
11. The Woolworth building has sixty stories and is 791 feet high.
12. The City Hall is a low old fashioned building of 100 years age.
13. Compare the old City Hall with the Municipal Building with its 40 stories.
14. The Tower of the Metropolitan Building on Madison Square is 700 feet high.
15. Times Square is a busy part of Broadway.
16. No street cars or trucks are permitted in the fashionable shopping part of Fifth Avenue.
17. Washington Arch is a memorial to George Washington erected over Fifth Avenue at Washington Square.
18. A Fifth Avenue buss.
19. The Flatiron building, twenty stories high, is built upon a small triangle of land on Fifth Avenue.

(New York City - - - - - #2)

20. Central Park contains 7,000 acres in the heart of New York.
21. The Obelisk in Central Park was a gift from the Khedive of Egypt to New York.
22. The East Side is the most congested area.
23. Street markets in the crowded Ghetto of the East Side.
24. Above the narrow streets the elevated railroad carried people rapidly about the city.
25. Many ferries ply across the Hudson River.
26. Riverside Drive is a boulevard overlooking the Hudson.
27. General U. S. Grant's tomb on Riverside Drive is an imposing memorial.
28. Manhattan, the center of New York, was purchased from the Indians for $24 in cloth and beads. Today it is worth untold wealth. It is the business and commercial of the world.

THE END.
